Legal Service

Utilizing the legal expertise of Ilina Law Firm, you can pursue multiple legal avenues to resolve the issues confronting you.

- Litigation Lawyer

Litigation is the last resort available to clients when non-litigation avenues are no longer feasible. The hope is that disputes brought before a judge in a trial can be adjudicated and resolved fairly between the parties involved. The assistance we provide includes:

1. Preparation of reports and/or complaints to the police, either as representatives or companions.
2. Undergoing examinations related to police cases as the reported party.
3. Submitting applications for both detention prevention and processing suspension.
4. Filing lawsuits in civil cases as the plaintiff.
5. Responding to lawsuits in civil cases as the defendant.
6. Providing assistance throughout the judicial process, including first instance, appeal, cassation, and review.

- Non-Litigation Lawyer

An attorney in a dispute is not obligated to pursue litigation. There are times when non-litigation settlement options must be pursued. Non-litigation handling, also known as Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR), prioritizes the discovery and formulation of solutions without causing harm to any party. We strive to provide a peaceful resolution for clients using the following methods:

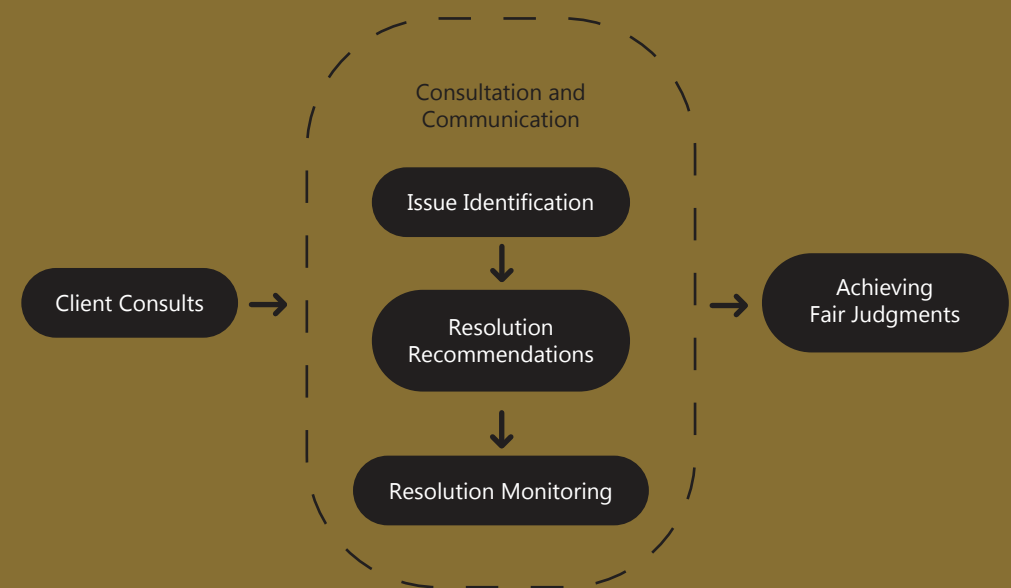

1. Drafting and sending summonses (warning letters).
2. Acting as negotiators in conducting negotiations with other parties.
3. Acting as mediators and/or mediators for clients and opposing parties.

- Corporate Lawyer

As a legal consultant for a company, we provide various legal services based on client preferences, including:

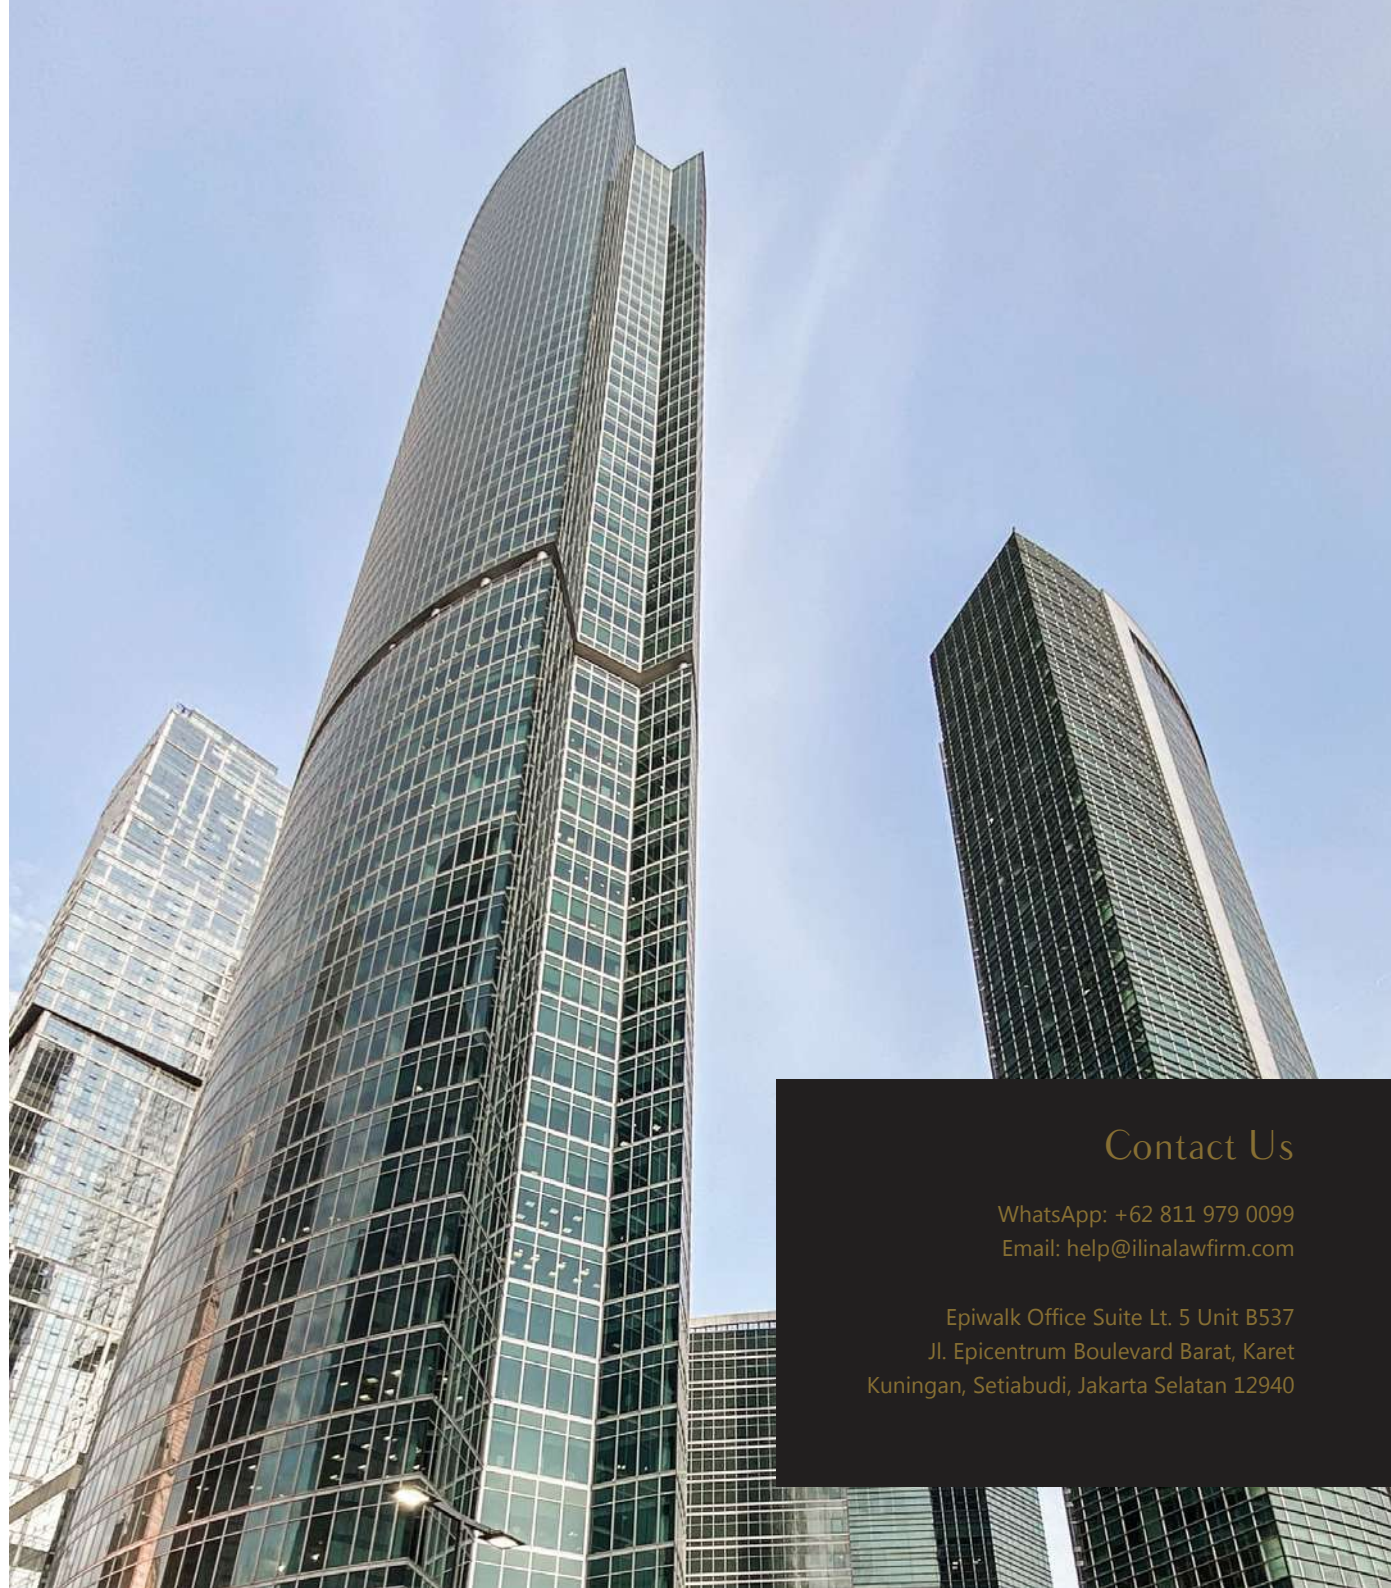

1. Contract drafting
2. Contract negotiation
3. Legal document translation
4. Legal opinions
5. Licensing management
6. Legal due diligence
